for victory

SCHOOL STUDENTS, CITIZENS OF LORAIN, AND THOSE ALUMNI WHO ARE SERVING THEIR COUNTRY . . .

Admiral King

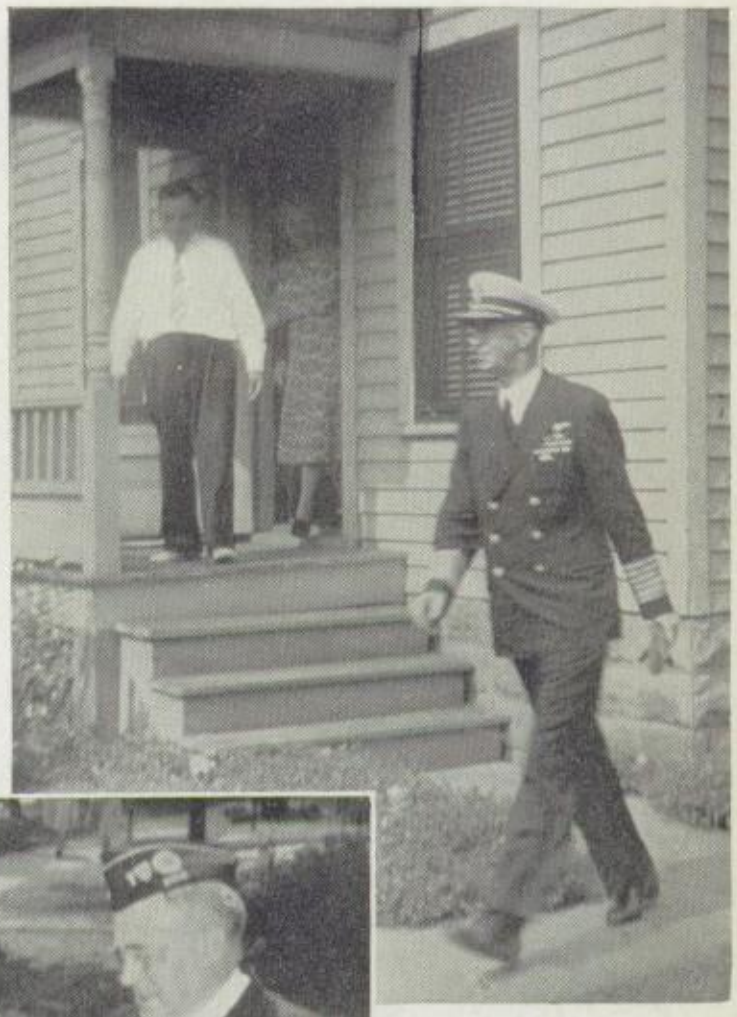
Commander-in-chief of U. S. Fleet and Chief of Naval Operations

IN 1812 Perry said it . . . "We have met the enemy and they are ours." . . . Today those same shores of Lake Erie re-echo that spirit of victory . . . symbolized in Ernest J. King . . . Admiral . . . Cominch . . . America in her darkest peril, . . . President Roosevelt turned to our most illustrious alumnus . . . Humbly, calmly, ably, doggedly . . . the forces of conquest were turned back . . . Ask Tojo! . . . He remembers . . . Coral Sea . . . Bismarck Sea . . . Lorain means fighting men . . . fighting ships . . . We are proud . . . grateful . . . inspired . . . OUR alumnus . . . King of the Atlantic . . . King of the Pacific . . . King . . . in the hearts of men.

The Admiral Comes Home

ON August 30, 1942, our "Ernie" came home . . . Only a day, but Lorain showed HER Admiral what SHE could do . . . khaki jeeps . . . air raid wardens . . . military bands . . . coast guardsmen . . . sailors . . . marines . . . soldiers . . . addresses . . . salutes . . . red, white, and blue . . . screeching horns . . . blaring sirens . . . cheering crowds . . . jammed streets . . . a great man . . . grieving parents visited . . . consoled . . . a true friend . . . a kindly neighbor.

A little boy spoke for us all . . . "Hi, Ernie."



He humbly consoled the Sosnoskis.

Congressman Harter and Superintendent Bunn chatted with the Admiral.

Commander Racey extended greetings as Mayor VanWagnen and Lieutenant - Commander Stack looked on.

The Admiral and Governor Bricker saluted the colors.

He dedicated the memorial shaft with William Kratt, Gen. Chairman.

"I Want to Die in My Plane

Major Lofton Henderson

LORAIN HIGH SCHOOL

UNITED STATES NAVAL ACADEMY

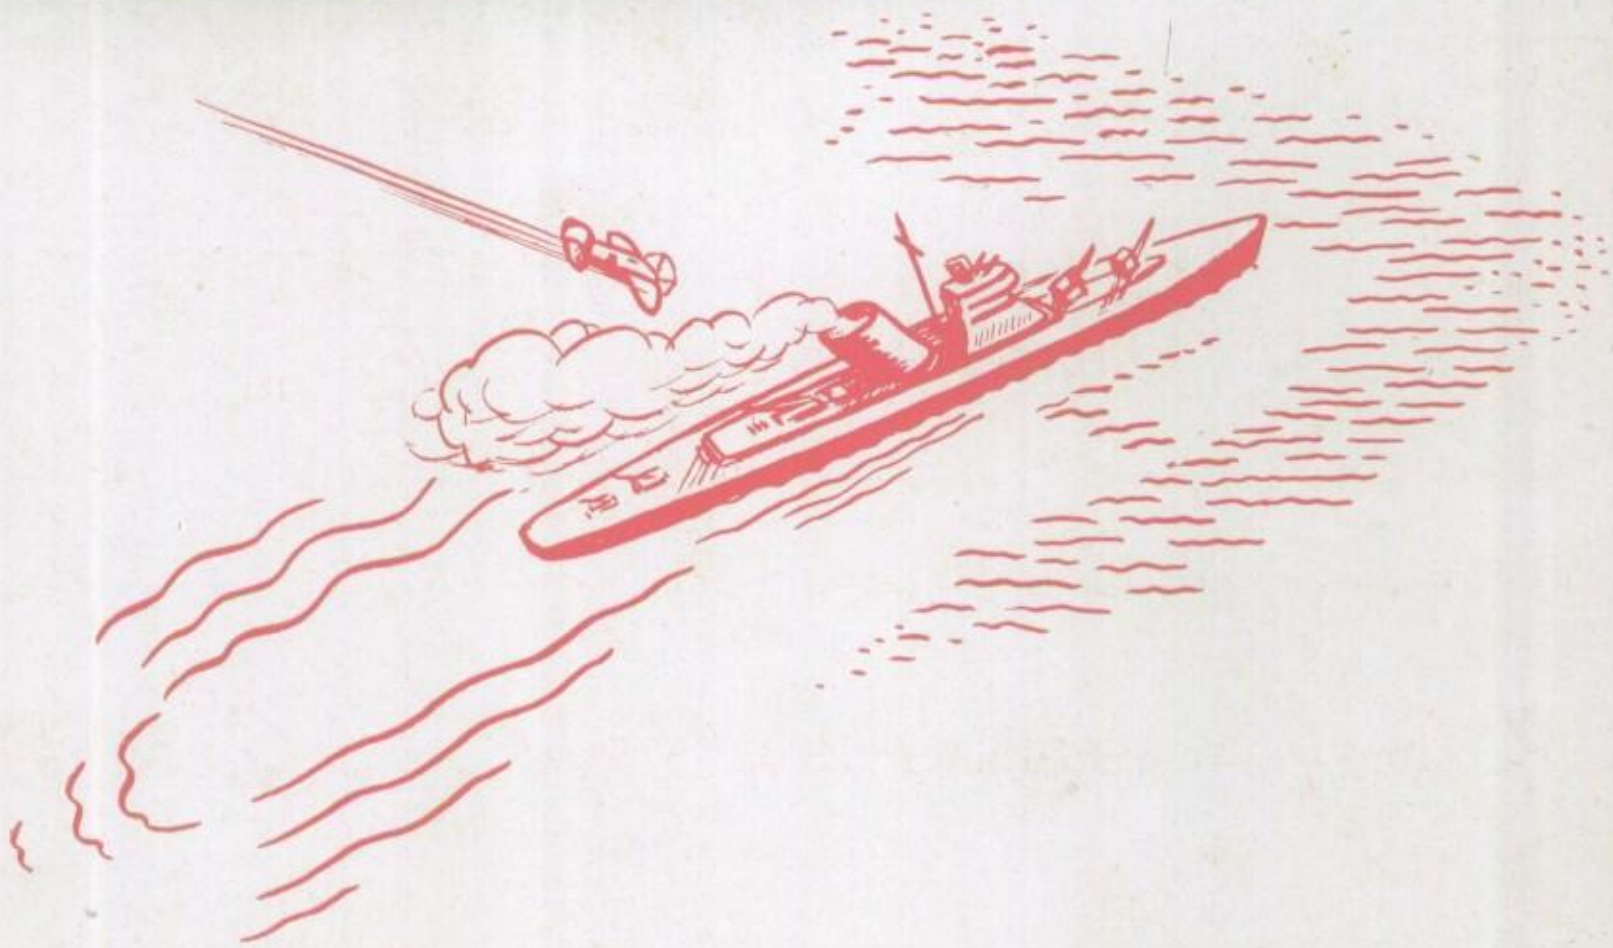
A HERO'S DEATH AT MIDWAY
June 4, 1942



. . With My Boots On!"

HE DID . . . On the fourth of June, 1942, Major Lofton R. Henderson and his small group of Marine Corps aviators took to the skies over Midway to defend the island from an attacking Japanese invasion force . . . Major Henderson and his greatly outnumbered group of scout bombers spotted the Japanese fleet and launched the attack . . . His plane . . . the leader was hit . . . immediately it burst into flames . . . He deliberately maneuvered his light bomber . . . plunged into the smokestack of an enemy carrier . . . He knew what he was doing . . . It cost him his life . . . but the destruction of the carrier was assured . . . His act of heroism spurred our forces on to that historic sea and air victory . . . That day the sun set . . . A Japanese sun, too, was setting . . . Control of the Pacific was in American hands.

In honor of Lofty's supreme sacrifice the United States Navy changed the name of the airfield on Midway from which he launched that epic attack . . . Later at Guadalcanal the "fighting leathernecks" defending that island also named the blood-soaked airfield there . . . Henderson Field . . . in memory of the man who delivered THEIR "Answer to Tojo."

The whole world knows OUR Lofton Henderson . . . The supreme "Sacrifice for Victory" . . . was not too great for Lofty . . . His spirit . . . fighting spirit . . . lives on in Lorain High School today.

Lorain's in This Fight, Too!

★ Out of retirement came Lofty Henderson's father—yes, and thousands of Lorain fathers, men of peace . . . building ships of war, fighting ships for fighting men . . . The largest freshwater shipyards in the world answered the call for more ships for our fighting men . . . They built ships . . . they launched ships . . . they built still more ships . . . Lorain sent Uncle Sam more men than any other town of our size you can name.

The call was re-echoed . . . "Ships for victory!" The reverberating crescendo of ships plunging into the waters . . . waters which have floated the men-of-war for other conflicts . . . waters which saw tradition broken . . . WAACs and SPARS . . . the first women naval officers—launching ships . . . Women helped build them . . . women launched them.

Publicity . . . sure . . . the other yards get it . . . maybe you haven't heard much of Lorain and its ships but we are here . . . Everytime there are ships to be built . . . or a war to be won . . . they call on us . . . We're ready . . . we're willing . . . we're able.

Here's Proof of It . . .

A Message From Mr. Bunn

★ When we consider the magnitude of this world wide conflict in which we are engaged, we feel so helpless. We are tempted to say: "What can I do? I am only one person in a vast world of people. What part can I play in so great an enterprise? How can I alone find any way to help? And yet I want an end to this terrible struggle, an end to sorrow and suffering and pain. I want to have a world of peace and happiness. I know there are millions of other students who feel just as I feel—lost—alone. But I know that together we have the power to make the world free—free from greed and hatred and murder. I know, too, that to bring about the day when peace and righteousness shall reign, I must accept my individual responsibility to live and give and work and fight and serve as if

Superintendent of Lorain Schools

the outcome of this War depended on me alone. I shall fight not only to defend my own country but to bring about a just and permanent peace for the world."

That is the spirit of the boys and girls of Lorain High School. You have proved in many ways this year your loyalty and devotion to our American aims and ideals. You have not only preached but you have practiced our motto "SACRIFICE FOR VICTORY." That is the spirit that will win this War. I congratulate you on your many patriotic achievements.

Principal of Lorain High School
MR. C. J. W. LUTTRELL

A Message From Mr. Luttrell

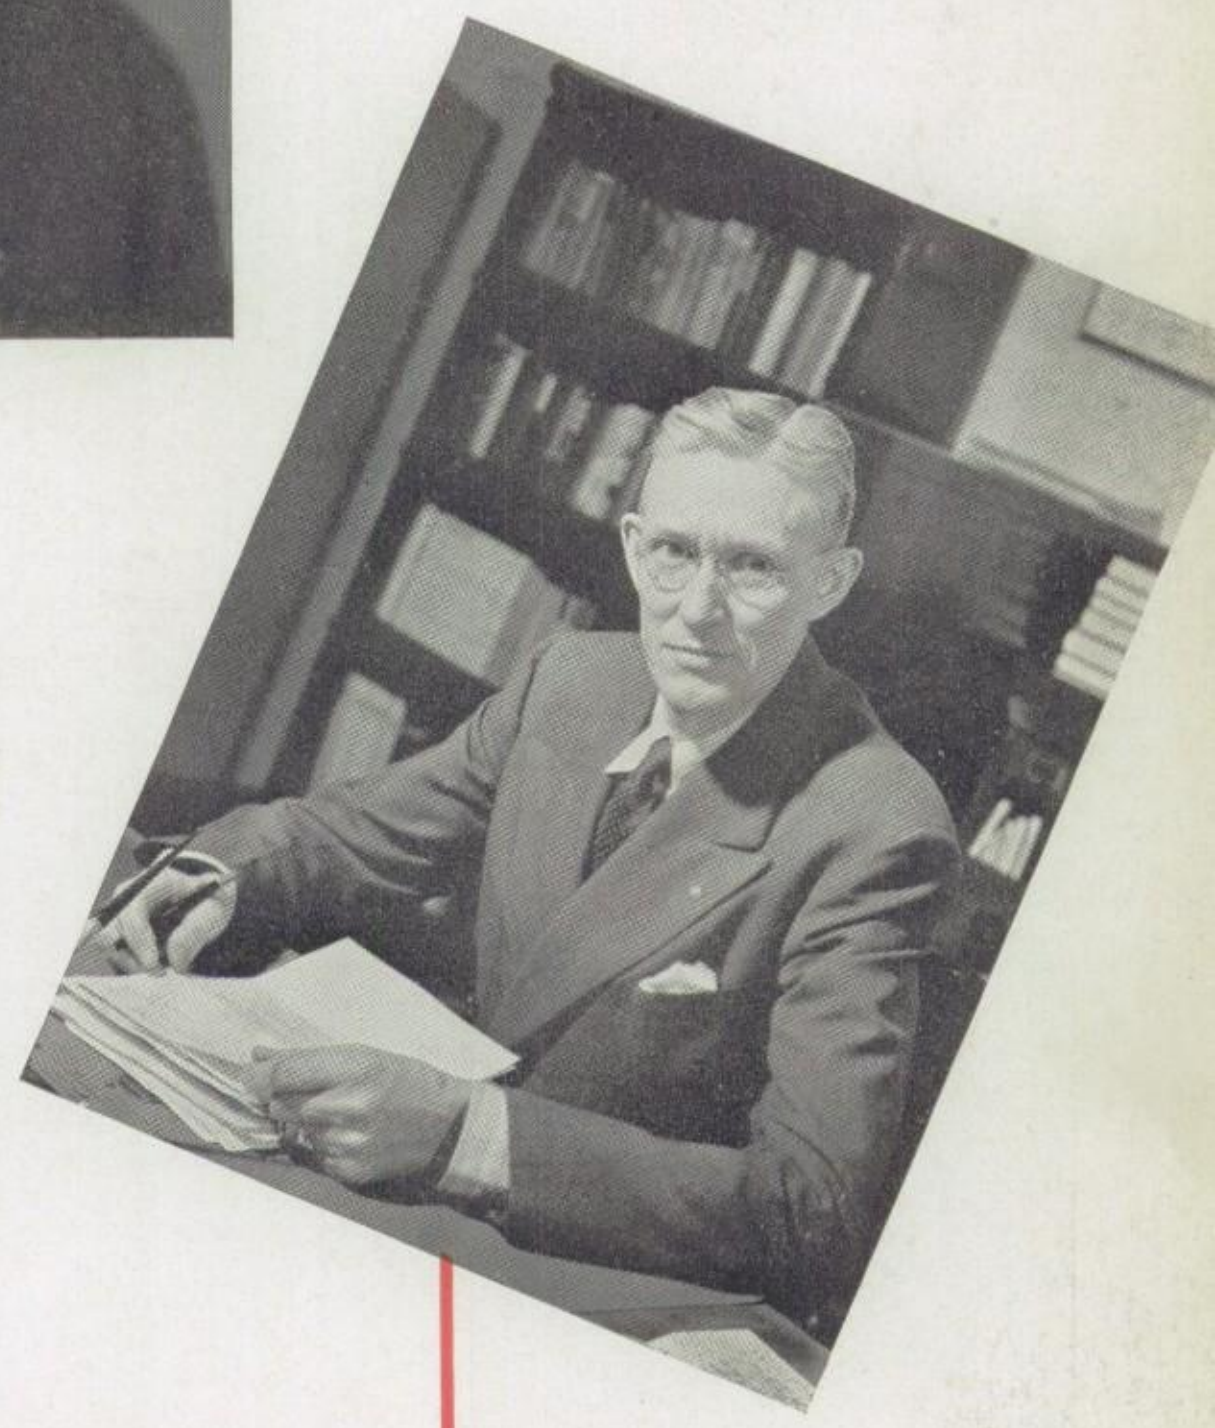
★ Progress in this war cannot be measured wholly in terms of army advances and naval achievements—though these are exceedingly important.

The performance of the civil population can aid materially in shortening the road to victory. By shortening that road the time is brought nearer when the men who are engaged in combat in Alaska, and Africa, and Guadalcanal, and other far-off combat zones can return to their homes and their loved ones in what we hope and pray will be a better world.

It is reassuring to us and discouraging to our enemies to know that in addition to the millions of men and women in America who are ready to work, save, fight, and even die, if necessary, for the sake of freedom's cause, there are millions of high school youth who are ready to make their sacrifices for victory.

I believe that the boys and girls of Lorain High School realize that this conflict will be won on many fronts. If it takes sacrifices to win, they are willing to make sacrifices. Some like Lofton Henderson have already made the supreme sacrifice. But to many it means helping in salvage campaigns, buying War Bonds and Stamps, raising food, conserving materials, working part time on an essential job, and preparing more diligently for the days that lie ahead—days of war, and days of peace and reconstruction.

Lorain High School accepts the challenge. We will do our full part in helping to shorten the road to victory and in helping to build the new world of the future.



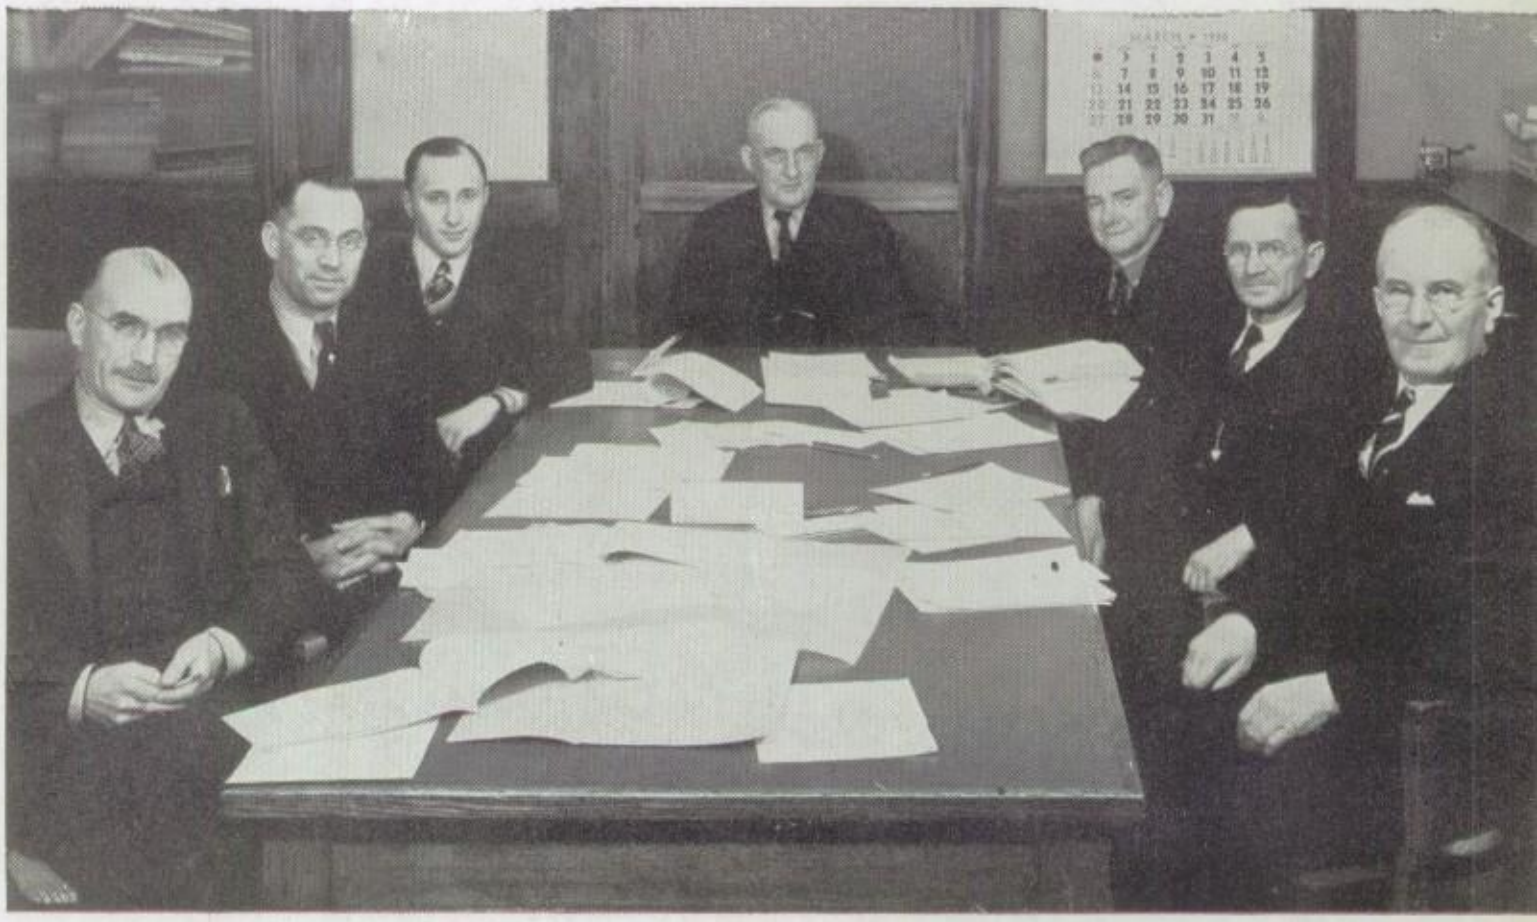
Lorain's Board Is Efficient . . .

Schools which helped produce Ernest J. King and Lofton Henderson need to have efficient management. The present conflict has added numerous problems for that public-spirited body of men who make up our Board of Education. Our Board of Education has served the schools faithfully and well.

The board consists of five members—Mr. C. A. Hartz is Clerk-Treasurer and Mr. W. A. Pillans is Business Manager. Those elected at large by the community are Dr. S. V. Burley, who has served 11 years, the last 9 years as president of the group; Mr. D. W. Lawrence has served 22 years, the last 10 years as vice-president of the board. Mr. Philip H. Austin has served the past 9 years. Dr. W. S. Nielsen has been a member for the past 10 years; and Mr. Joseph A. Svete has served for 5 years.

The years 1942 and 1943 have left their mark on the activities of this group. There is a general shortage of teachers everywhere due to the entrance of many into the armed forces of our country. School supplies can be purchased now only in limited quantities. Additions and repairs to buildings and other school property have been definitely curtailed. The curricula of the schools have been noticeably altered so as to prepare the youth of Lorain for the present conflict and for their place in the world of tomorrow.

Lorain is grateful to the board for its untiring service in behalf of Lorain schools.



Seated from left to right: W. A. Pillans, Business Manager, Walter S. Nielsen, Joseph A. Svete, Dr. S. V. Burley, President, C. A. Hartz, Clerk, D. W. Lawrence, Vice-President, Philip Austin.

Board of Education

Mrs. Rose B. Denny

She Is, Too . . .

Mrs. Rose B. Denney, Mr. Luttrell's secretary, was an extremely busy woman even in ordinary times; but in war time her duties increase many fold. Much of her time she gave to typing letters of recommendation for former Lorain High School students who were planning to enlist in the armed forces or attend college. There were more transcriptions of high school credits than ever before.

In the office Mrs. Denney was in charge of distributing literature on Nurses' Training, WAVES, and WAACs. She participated in conducting V-12 tests for senior boys and also in the sales of War Bonds and Stamps. She received many requests for girls to work part-time jobs.

Mrs. Denney lived in Elyria for nine years but since 1936 has resided in Lorain. She likes good plays and good music. Her favorite hobby is walking. With gas rationed isn't it a good one!

Mr. E. M. McCaskey checked William Ragan's schedule.

Boys Have Guidance . . .

Every morning the principal's office was crowded with boys waiting in line to see Mr. McCaskey, the Boys' Guidance Director. Besides giving out the "yes" and "no" permits, he gave his time to guidance conferences, helped to keep the boys posted about their credits, and aided the new pupils in getting oriented. Mr. McCaskey also taught Business Training along with his other numerous duties.

The boys were war-minded. Most of the future graduates were taking subjects which would help them to obtain a place in Uncle Sam's services, and perhaps "get a crack" at our common enemies. Some boys had withdrawn to take jobs in war plants, and absences due to work were on the increase.
Together with Miss Long, Mr. McCaskey helped plan our Tuesday morning Guidance Programs, a big job in itself.

In War and Peace, Guidance Is Needed

Nora Pries and Margaret Hornick reviewed academic strategy with Miss Doris Long.

And Girls, Too . . .

The war changed the future plans of many girls. These changes were reflected in the Guidance Department, too. Fewer planned to attend college, many intended to join the WAVES, SPARS, Marines, or WAACs; nursing came in for increased emphasis, and all in all Miss Long had a busy day. Industrial Arts had been opened to girls who intended to help Uncle Sam in war work after graduation.

From eight forty-five to the end of the ninth period she was engaged in countless activities. She issued yellow and white permits to girl absentees. In addition to this she arranged schedules, helped to direct the activities of all our girls and also taught English.
Together with Miss Wolfe, Miss Long sponsored the Hi-C Club. Both Guidance Directors planned the party for Freshmen.

★ ★ LORAIN IS PROU

1. Robert Bickel, Joe Sarnovski, and Eugene D'Innocente acted as quartermasters to our athletic squads.

2. Dick Burrett sponsored the Lofton Henderson Memorial Trophy in honor of his former school chum. This trophy is to be awarded annually to the winning intramural basketball team in memory of Lofty's favorite sport.

3. George Daniel, Commander-in-chief of physical education, read a communique from Seaman Dick Burrett, stationed somewhere in the Pacific. In this letter, read at Closing Hour, Dick Burrett paid tribute to Lofton Henderson's love of sports and awarded the trophy to the school in memory of his former team-mate.

4. Dennis Meyers, Burton Nesbitt, Bob Hines, Jim Riddell, and Ray Gerbrand were Lorain High's "ministers of propaganda."

OF ALL HER SONS ★ ★

1. Bob Miller, Dan Little, and Betty Axelson opened some new "fronts" to knowledge in the library.

2. Ray Link and Jean Langhorst proved their point about the Panama Canal defenses.

3. Vitamins For Victory—Louise Boughton tried a hand at the culinary art.

4. Doctor Carr conferred with Mr. Luttrell before giving his splendid commencement address.

5. Senior choir officers, Virginia Shreffler, Floyd Garl, Bernard Berman, and Gertrude Szaroleta planned for future "operations."

6. We caught Dick Schmidt "under fire" before the map of France; Free France, incidentally.

7. Lucille Talpas, Andrew Warhola, Elaine MacFarland, Evelyn Steele, and Mr. Dobras made last minute plans to discuss the postwar world in the annual speech meet.

ARCHERY CLUB

No, this isn't Robin Hood and Co., Sherwood forest—it's the archery club of Lorain High School. Sponsored by Mr. F. H. Smith, these exponents of the gentle art of using the weapon of the American Indian practice at Lakeview Park. They are limited to a summer session due to the lack of an indoor range but make up for this by two or three sessions a week. Lively interest in this sport has kept this club one of the most active organizations of Lorain High School.

BIOLOGY CLUB

When asked what the Biology Club was doing to help speed victory, Mr. McKee said, "We're looking for it."

Although the club was not fully organized at the time of this query, it was planning a wide program of activities pertaining to the war effort. The members plan to help get recruits for the blood bank and to help at the hospital.

The club is composed of girls and boys of different ages and grades interested in biology and who would like to broaden their knowledge of that subject. The sponsors are Mr. McKee and Mr. Gundrum.

CAMERA CLUB

The "click-clicks" and the "hold that poses" were all absent from the corridors of L. H. S. these days. But the Camera Club didn't mind. They knew that there is a war going on.

Before the war the members took pictures as they pleased and the bulletin board that the club maintains on the first floor was always full of pictures. But now, the lack of film greatly curtails the activities of the club. Nevertheless, the group meets once a month with Mr. Davis in charge.

COMMERCIAL LAW CLUB

Getting the lawyers' angle of law was the primary purpose of the law club. In April they held a mock trial at which Judge Malcolm Thomson presided and practicing lawyers were called in to coach the contestants. The members participated as jurors, witnesses, bailiffs, and talesmen. In addition to the trial, outside speakers were invited to supplement club studies.

Trips to the county courthouse to witness actual court sessions marked some of the activities of meetings of the organization in the past. These have, of course, been eliminated, due to traveling difficulties.

Standing in the top row: Miss Har ley, Lillian Feightner, Ellen Shool Loretta Goodman, Jane Ann Witte Helen Jane Michaels, Yolanda Lesk vich, Ann Hunger, Leah Jacob Margaret Mulholland.

The middle row presents: Frances Ro berts, Betty Megyesy, Carl Lepon, Ra Py, Richard Masin, Mike Koury, Joh Pajak, Selma Lerner, Christine Piros.

The first row includes: Lucille Talpa Gloria Ziegman, Geraldine Cecil, Pa tricia Bender, Amelia Samaha, Ba bara Lee Kern, Jean Marie Price, Gle na Steele.

Garden Club

Top row includes: Dorothy Spaid Veronica Mike, Dorothy Januszesk Evelyn Roth, Margaret Grossner.

The first row shows: Mr. Gundrum Bessie Hall, Gertrude Hall, Ernestin Maley, Lillian Miceli, Hermina Stecz William Hauer.

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club is also doing its bit in the V . . . — effort It trained its members, some of which expect to go into th armed forces, in the art of conversing in French.

"This has proven and will prove valuable," said Miss Hartley "Our boys in Africa have written back and told us how hand their high school French has been."

The French students who belong to the club were taught t use their French fluently in conversation, and to express them selves more clearly in that language. Who knows? Some day th time may come when words will speak louder than actions

GARDEN CLUB

The principal objects of the garden club were sand, seeds, and the flats used in raising of various plants. The members of this club grew many different kinds of vegetables and flowers with the help of Mr. Gundrum. Their ultimate purpose was to locate suitable places for victory gardens. This was a very appropriate project to undertake during such a critical period considering the shortage of canned goods and fresh vegetables. The members of this club contributed all their effort so that they might serve their country as well as themselves.

GERMAN CLUB

Picture thirty-five people dashing madly for thirty-four chairs and you have an idea of how the German Club spent its meetings. "Obst-Korb ubergeworfen" and Truth and Consequences spoken in German were several of the games played by the members. A play was presented in which the players spoke "auf Deutsch." Other members read German novels, which seems strange in view of the fact that people in Germany could not read them, due to Hitler's gala bonfire on literary subjects.

HI-C's

"Swish, Bang, Crunch," are not unfamiliar sounds as the Hi-C's wash and smash tin cans to help win the war. The girls sacrifice one study hall a week to salvage the cans. Nor is that all. They sponsored a campaign for old books and music too. Hi-C's were also busy packing boxes for former L. H. S. students now on the "high seas." The club met on the second and fourth Tuesday of the month, the ninth period, in the Health Room. Miss Long and Miss Wolfe sponsored the group.

German

Standing in the fourth row: Margene Schmidt, Joseph Fischer, Pete Petroff, Tim Kratt, George Falk, Dan Bodor, Miss Moehle.

Standing in the third row are: Helen Donath, June Bernasek, Joan Ernst, Ruth Alice Fisher, Mary Lou Krueck, Joan Ricchiuto.

Seen in the second row are: Margaret Grossner, Jean Caulton, Delores Depula, Virgie Janusziski, Priscilla Francis, Dorothy Gross.

The first row includes: Shirley Eppley, Ruth Lachman, Hildegarde Boswau, Vera Manichl, Emma Ger, Doris Browning.

Hi-C

Standing in the top row: Jane Ann Witter, Mary Jane Piper, Joan Luttrell, Jinny Fauver, Evelyn Roth, Betty Cathers, Joan McDermott, Miss Wolf, Miss Long.

Included in the third row: Joyce Irish, Glenna Steele, Mary Ann Super, Mary Catherine Carlson, Barbara Lee Kern, Phyllis Aebersold, Olga Tender, Corinne Young.

Present in the second row: Helen Wendrowicz, Isabelle Shiach, Hildegarde Boswau, Betty Jane Jurina, Dove Danzig, Frances Urban, Agnes Gencur.

Hi Scouts

Hi Standard

Standing in the top row are: Miss Bleyer, Irene Doslak, Raynette Ault, Dave Dorrance, Ernest Dugovich, Helen Smith, Ann Bartos, Miss Watson.

In the third row are: Glenna Steele, Dena Bove, Dorothy Resek, Mary Jo Gascaigne, Amelia Samaha, Lucille Talpas, Mary Looch.

The second row includes: Barbara Lee Kern, Janet Meldrum, Barbara Arthrell, Ann Thomas, Juanita Dearing, Ann Rogers.

HI-SCOUTS

Taking care of the numerous plays around the school and conducting favorable publicity during National Scout Week were two of the activities participated in by the Hi-Scouts during 1942-1943. In the closest election in eight years Bob Peters edged out Clarence Shady for the right to be Scout Mayor for-a-day. Since the two defeated candidates have a choice of two offices, Shady chose that of Safety Director. The other candidate chose the office of Police Chief.

HI-STANDARD

Is the war having an effect on the Hi-Standard? No, not much. Can you imagine a newspaper being printed during a period of scarcities and priorities? The photographers were forced to make good on one shot, while the school was obliged to turn over old metal cuts in part payment for new ones.

The actual collection of news rested in the hands of the Journalism II class and several members of the advanced journalism classes who contributed features and editorials frequently.

HI-Y

"Clean living, clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship." The motto of the Hi-Y club symbolizes the aims of the average high school boy, for the Hi-Y's are a cross section of Lorain High. The club of 20 members is jointly sponsored by the high school and the Y. M. C. A., with Mr. Jones and Mr. Monos as co-advisors. Its members took an active part in intramurals and made and posted the eye-catching Boosters signs for our football and basketball teams. In Civilian Defense each one was a fireman at some post in the building.

HOBBY CLUB

Guns, cowboy equipment, foreign postal cards, and novelty jewelry were just a few of the many clever and varied hobbies of the members of the Hobby Club. This interesting club was originally organized to provide a club for stamp collectors, but now has expanded to include any one who has a hobby.

The club met regularly the first Tuesday of the month in A-15 and the programs consisted of talks and demonstrations of hobbies. This organization whose faculty advisor is Mr. Cook, now has thirty-five members and twenty different hobbies.

Hi-Y

Present in the last row: Jim Riddell, Charles Baker, Bob Nolan, Doug Preble, Mike Koury, Don Hahn, Robert Smith, Mr. Jones.

Standing in the third row: Dick Stevenson, Bill Fox, Bill Barson, Ernest Dugovich, John McConnell, Dan Little, Bob Dippel.

In the second row we see: Bob Georgeff, Stanley Maier, Alvin Ricci, George Falk, Jim Slattery, Dean Buchanan, Ray Py.

Included in the front row: Bruce Waterhouse, Ronnie Graves, Carl Lepon, Gene Hawley, Gerald Mitenbuler, Bill Moon.

Hobby

In the fourth row are: Mr. Cook, Irene Emmons, Lois Jean Fisher, Lois Ketcham, Adele Zlotnicke, William Undertilo, Bryant Richardson, Morris Lanning, Jerry Freedman.

Included in the third row: Jean Sislowski, Phyllis Toy, Eleanore Barrett, Louise Kozonics, Mary Lou Pong, Rosalie Yocobozzi, Josephine Yurkovic, Betty Jane Tomchu.

In the second row are: Diana Angelos, Theresa Roffai, Miriam Dellinger, Helen Vajda, Frances Roth, Helen Sirak, Wanda Pennington, Doris Mae Shay.

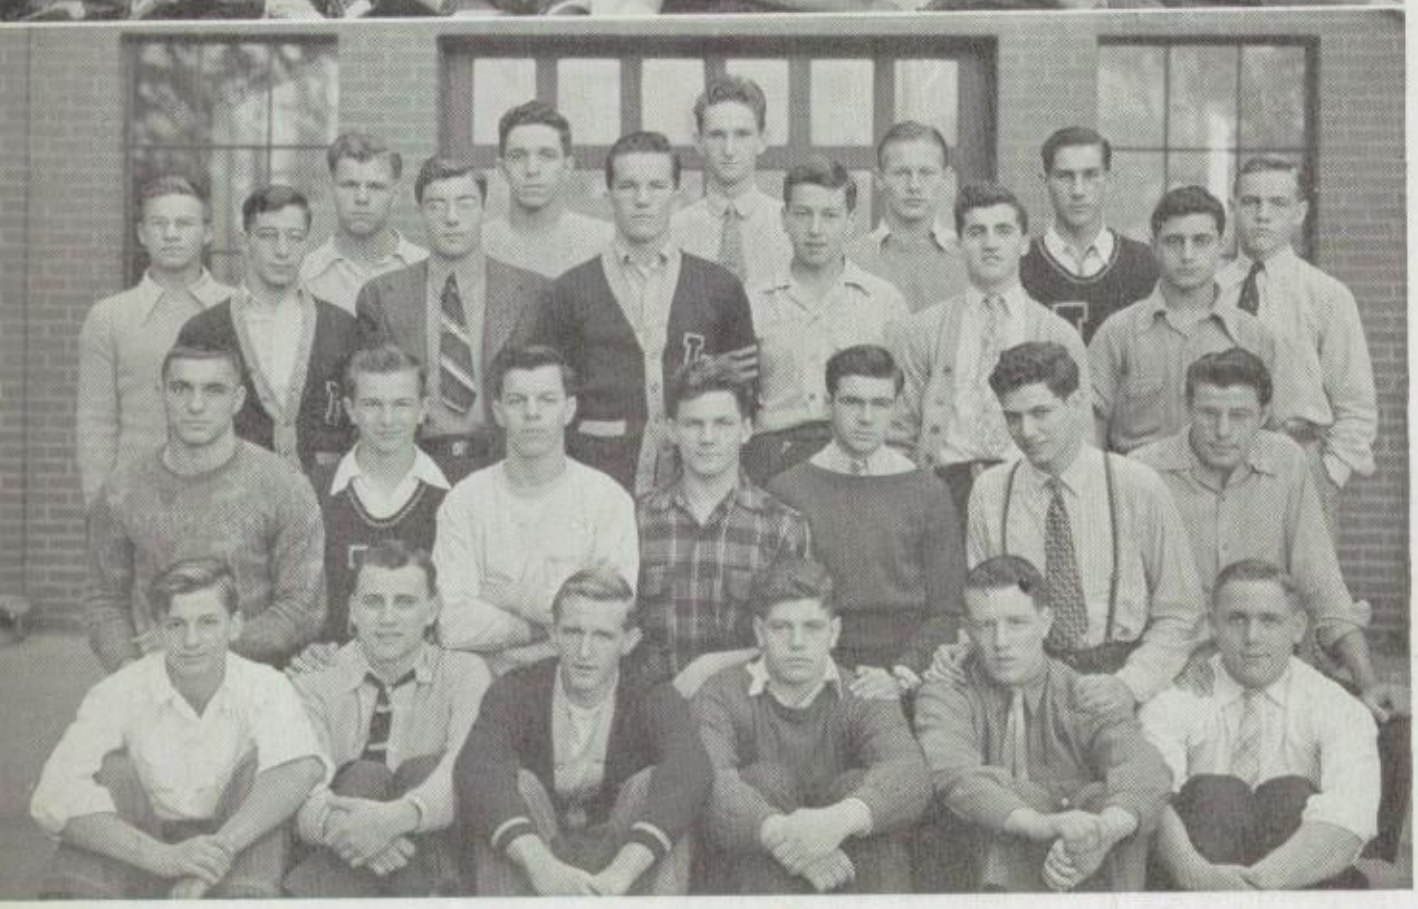
Home Economics

In the top row are: Grace Sekelsky, Betty Kissman, Shirley Fowler, Jean Langhorst, Ann Rak, Elizabeth Ondulich, Miss Craw.

The middle row pictures: Michelena Letizia, Florence Mroz, Jeanette Kalisz, Evelyn Nagy, Emma Ger, Helen Donath.

Appearing in the first row are: Loretta Czarney, Sophie Grycz, Olga Duda, Mildred Kozarich, Veronica Mika, Christine Piros, Elayne MacFarland.



Boys "L"

Standing in the last row: Chuck Butrey, Nickolas Mitro, Bill Simonovich, Doug Preble, Leroy Nelson, Joe Bartos, Bob Nolan.

The third row includes: Eugene D'Innocente, Dan Little, Russ Wittmer, Bruce Waterhouse, Robert Callahan, Alvin Ricci.

In the second row are: Jim Wielgos, Leo Pawlak, Hugo Truscello, Dan Jaworski, Rudy Plasko, Stanley Maier, Walt Mazgaj.

HOME EC CLUB

"Keep the home club going," is the slogan of the Home Ec Club. In the past the club had focused its interest mainly on cooking and its various problems. Since our entry in the war, however, they have changed their programs and now are helping in Civilian Defense. Miss Craw, the sponsor, had helped the members make stuffed toys for the young children who are kept in nursery schools while their parents are at work. Club meetings were held on the second and third Tuesday of the calendar month.

BOYS "L" CLUB

A football spirals through the air! Two halfbacks come charging through a hole formed by the solid line. Crash! A tackle bursts through and the ball carrier hits the floor. What! Football on a solid floor you ask. But don't be alarmed. It was only the "L" Club waiting for the meeting to begin. To this club belonged all boys who had won a varsity "L" for participation in any major sport. Mr. Pryor and Mr. Mills were the master minds behind the club.

LATIN CLUB

As the members of the second semester Nurses' Latin Club anxiously peered around the dummy of Oscar, Miss Love and Miss Stone emitted phrases which are all "Latin to us." They are physiological terms used to designate different parts of the body anatomy.

The purpose this club served was a very valuable one in these troubled times. It trained girls who expect to become nurses in the use of Latin words and terms which will help speed their training courses, so as to better cope with the present shortage of doctors and nurses.

MATH CLUB

"There's a trick to every trade, but ours is all tricks." So say the members of the Math Club. Yes, four equals two, and all the triangles that can be drawn are equilateral. Well, we aren't the ones to judge. If you doubt those statements and aren't doing anything special just drop into one of the meetings and Mr. F. H. Smith and company will be only too glad to prove them for you. Oh! yes, the Math Club meets the second Tuesday of each month in C-4.

Latin

In the middle row are; Jean Lustig, Pauline Merves, Frances Wacker, Josephine Edwards, Amelia Caserta, Florence Stempowski, Bernice Miraldi.

Math

In the top row are seen: Mr. Smith, Jinny Fauver, Gene Ross, Oliver Ross, Joseph Fischer, Louis Fischer, Andrew Warhola, Eddie Pappas, Margene Schmidt, Carl Lepon, Gene Hawley, Mary Ann Cherubini.
Standing in the third row are: Jean Marie Price, Eleanore Lute, Jean Lustig, Dorothy Krontz, Kathleen Ryan, Dorothy Resek, Marianne Rothman, Patsy Blank, Patricia Bender, Maryann Hocak, Corinne Young.
Kneeling in the second row are: Leona Stepek, Jane Ann Witter, Isabelle Shiach, Janet Smith, Helen Wendrowicz, Joan Maloy, Kathleen Masson, Eileen Thibaut, Georgene Bender, Edna Buhl.

Model Airplane

Those in the top row are: Linus Fries, Irvin Gilson, Jim Smith, Charles Pettigrew, Francis Faroh, Mr. Grove.

The middle row shows: Bill Stulgis, Joe Szabo, Marvin Lanning, J. Bryant Richardson, Andrew Sombati, Michael Zgayb.

In the first row are: Don Weber, Maynard Smith, Neal Mathers, Gerald Bach, Dolph Grider.

Movie Aids

Appearing in the top row: Norman Jacoby, Fred Hunger, John Sedivy, Eric Weiss, Arthur Turman, Ray Link, William Szep, Robert Washtak.

Those in the third row are: Mike Barbuscak, Frances Wacker, Julia Rango, Dorothy Hoy, Lillian Cycyk, Helen Sakowski, Muriel Rehm, Valia Marinucci, Dennis Meyers.

Kneeling in the second row are: Edward Hornick, Helen Wacker, Helen Pollack, Betty Tomchu, Agnes Milicic, Jean DeBevec, Jeannette Znidarsic, Jeannette Manilo.

MODEL AIRPLANE

"Will you check the dihedral on this P-39—Don't you think this fuselage needs more sanding?" These are just a few of the many comments you would have heard if you had walked into 101 any Wednesday night. The purpose of this group, sponsored by Mr. Grove, was to build its share of the identification models needed by the armed forces for training personnel in spotting hostile aircraft. These model builders, organized as a direct result of the war, and their finished products must be perfect enough to pass rigid inspection.

MOVIE AIDS

"Have you the film?" "Are the shades drawn?" This is what one hears when entering a room where a movie is to be shown by one of the twenty qualified movie operators. The films other than those that are bought for the school are rented from various exchanges and the State Dept. of Education. Among the more recent films are, "Before the Doctor Comes," and, "Bacteria." These capable operators have nearly 600 showings per school year to an audience of approximately 1,295. Mr. Monegan supervised the work of this organization.

OFFICE AIDS

Speed and efficiency were the mottos of the busy girls who worked in the principal's office and office annex. They answered the telephone, ran errands, typed, filed and took care of the supplies. Mrs. Denney had charge of the aids in the office, while in the Office Annex, Miss Simpson supervised them. In the Office Annex they ran off stencils and the absentee lists, filed the stencils when they were not in use. Every period during the day finds one or more aids in the office.

OFFICE AIDS

Neatness, personality, scholarship, and citizenship are the qualifications for this group, in which there are forty boys and girls.

There are twelve aids in the Principal's Office, at least one each period and some periods have two. These aids are selected by Mrs. Denney and Mr. Luttrell.

In the Girls' Guidance Office there are eleven aids and in the Health Room there are eight assistants. All of these are chosen by MissLong. Two of the eleven office aids are typists.

There are nine boys who assist Mr. McCaskey all of whom are selected by him.

Qualifications for all Guidance Office Aids are the same as for those in the Principal's office.

Office Aids

The third row includes: Minolyn Zipp, Jean Blank, Dena Bove, Donna Irish, Barbara Arthrell, Olga Tender.

Standing in the third row are: Robert Siegfried, Betty Tomchu, Eleanor Kulis, Dorothy Resek, Lillian Schindler, Carol Gannon, Dorothy Matesic.

Kneeling in the second row are: Lenore Kishman, Selma Lerner, Beryl Carlsen, Anna Jane Easton, Mary Ann Sandiford, Dorothy Aten, Betty Jurina.

Boys Guidance

The third row includes: Bob Curtis, Frank Minnich, Calvin Jenkins, Cable Youngquist, Rufus Rodgers, Dick Schmidt.

GIRLS' GUIDANCE

Capability and dependability represented two traits essential to every girl who served as a guidance aid. Neatness, too, was required. Each girl was assigned a specific task. Some duties performed were checking attendance, writing permits, checking guidance cards, and checking detention lists. This work was performed regularly by the aids. The girls volunteer their services for the guidance office during their study periods and after school.

There were twelve regular office aids, two substitutes, and eight health room guards. Miss Long, girls' guidance director, supervised the work of the aids.

BOYS' GUIDANCE

"Victory or defeat?" That is the age old question in the minds of the male populace of Lorain High School at the end of each grading term. The main duty of the guidance secretaries was to record their successes or failures for the school records. Other duties of Mr. McCaskey and his assistants are checking daily excuses for absence, assisting in the drawing up of pupil schedule cards, and recording students' credits for graduation. Not to mention that they were proverbial, "Dutch Uncles," to the 878 boys of Lorain High School.

SALES CLUB

"Ice Cream, chewing gum, and candy." Remember that call? Why that's the familiar noise of those super sales people; Mr. Cameron, Mr. Jones and their high pressure group, the Sales Club. Has the war struck home? Well, just ask any member of this organization and he'll give out with the revised "Victory" edition of the club call: "Ice Cream Bars, Ice Cream Bars, Come in and will gladly give you an estimate on an Ice Cream Bar." Why it became so bad that you didn't even hear the teachers complain about gum-chewing in their classes.

SENATE COUNCIL

The first Monday of each month saw the various members of the Senate Council convene in the Social Room for a discussion of student government. Every class and activity was represented in this democratic institution—government by the people. The Senate Council carried out a very successful and patriotic project, the sale of War Savings Bonds and Stamps. The goal set at the start of the year was greatly surpassed. Also the Service Honor Roll of alumni in the Armed Forces was carried out by Mr. Waterhouse and his assistants.

Sales Club

In the top row are: Mr. Gundrum, Mr. Jones, Vera Vucic, Olga Shlapack, Emma Pollack, Irene Zudell, Joan Schuster, Mr. Cameron.

SAFETY PATROL

Through rain, sleet, and snow their work must be done. Yes, that's the type of weather that snappy looking group must work in. They were seen every day on the street corners, in their outstanding uniforms, guarding the safety of our students. Their services were at hand for all football and basketball games, for ushering and keeping the crowds in hand. It's not all sugar and honey, but these boys served faithfully and cheerfully. We of Lorain High School took off our hats to Mr. C. U. Bateman and his well trained group, the Safety Patrol.

SPANISH CLUB

"Victoria por cooperacion." The Spanish have words for it too. This organization, sponsored by Miss Cummings and Miss Wright, spent its time in getting better acquainted with our southern neighbors. The members were those students of Spanish who are interested in learning more about Spanish ways, customs, and history. Meetings which were conducted in Spanish, were presided over by "El Presidente," and "La Secretaria" kept the club history up to date. "El Vice Presidente" headed the program committee. Spanish songs and plays were featured at the monthly meetings.

STAGE HANDS AND USHERS

"Follow me, please," was a well known phrase heard repeated many times during the year in the auditorium. The ushers, appointed and supervised by Mr. Luttrell, were on the job for many occasions; the operetta, Dramatic Club play, and commencement. These boys were assigned to certain sections of the auditorium and balcony to do their job of seating people. While the ushers were at work out in front, behind the scenes were the stage hands, managed by Mr. Traub, making last minute arrangements, moving scenery, and adjusting lights.

STRATFORD CLUB

"All the world's a stage," when the Stratford Club meets. This club, composed of Junior and Senior girls with an average of "B" or above in English, made a study of the great dramatist of our ally, England. Meeting time was taken up with dramatizing Shakespeare's better known works. The purpose of the club is to acquaint members with the works of Shakespeare and create a higher interest in his dramas. The club met the third Tuesday of every school month with Miss Miller in charge.

Stage Hands and Ushers

Standing in the top row are: Nick Vasu, Edward Tymkewicz, Roy Briggs, Andrew Warhola, Wallace Brasen, Eric Weiss, Louis Fischer, John McConnell.

MONITORS

"Your permit please," was what you usually heard the monitor ask if you were not in school the day before. It was her duty to see that every one was in the study hall the time they are due. If they were not in their assigned seats she wrote their names on a slip of paper, then checked to see if the name was on the absentee list or if they have secured a permit to leave the room. If not the name went to the office. A further check was made there.

MONITORS

The monitors are purely a service group. Members are chosen by the teacher for whom they serve as aids. They are not organized and have no officers or regular meetings. Those in this group must be better than average students as a good share of their study time must be devoted to the execution of their job. Because of the efficient time-saving service they render both to teachers and administration, we of Lorain High School pay tribute to the girls who have so cheerfully served.

HALL GUARDS

"Have you a corridor pass?" This was a frequent query among the Hall Guards. It was their duty to politely, but forcefully, tell you that you have no business in the halls without a permit. The one hundred and twelve, of whom fourteen are on duty each period, also assisted visitors who came to the building. Then, too, they kept an eye on lockers and cloak rooms to see that you still have a lunch so you could get your "vitamins for victory" when lunch period rolled around. Miss Lawrence had charge of these "corridor commandos."

HALL GUARDS

Hall guards obtained their positions upon recommendation of the teachers. They hold their positions for a semester, and some continue over into the next semester. A student could be a guard during a study period only, and so his schedule determined whether he remained a hall guard the second semester.

In selecting this group the upper classmen were given preference, but the job was open to both boys and girls. Service credit was given to these young people who so faithfully performed their duties. Miss Lawrence gave them instructions at the beginning of each semester.

Hall Guards

LIBRARY CLUB

"Miss Pitts, do you have 'Tallyho'?"

"Do you have the book 'Lou Gehrig'?" These are typical questions which came to Miss Pitts, our librarian. She was aided by the fifty odd members of the Library Club, whose work is important to the operation of the library. Their aim was to promote an interest in books and all forms of literature. This was partly accomplished by the annual Book Week Festival. The library served about 20,500 pupils per semester and has an average circulation of 12,000 books per semester.

LIBRARY CLUB

To take care of this work our aids perform many duties. Among them are: collecting, counting, sorting, and alphabetizing permits, taking permits to study halls, keeping the shelves in order, marking cards, carding and charging books, preparing new books for circulation and repairing the old ones, assisting students in finding the material they seek, and doing reference work. However these aids do not always work, for at the regular meetings, the second Tuesday of the month, they enjoy games, contests, plays, dancing, book reviews, and various other forms of entertainment.

Our whole life having been modified by the war more people have found time for profitable reading.

RIFLE CLUB

"Perfect score by Private Smith." That's what some of these members of the Rifle Club may be hearing from a tough top sergeant in the near future. These "snipers to be" met once a month to learn the fine points of marksmanship, care, and safe handling of firearms. A medal is awarded each semester to the member who makes the highest composite score. The group under the sponsorship of Mr. Lowrie was active all year, practices being held at their range in room 103.

RIFLE CLUB

Organized by eight charter members and their sponsors, this club became a part of the National Rifle Association of America as far back as June, 1921. Since that time the membership has increased and interest has grown accordingly in the club.

Of all the school groups which have been affected by the war, this organization has been hit the hardest. It is all but impossible to buy ammunition, and many of the boys have regular after school jobs which cut down meeting attendance.

Rifle Club

In the top row are: Alvin Kolyno, Henry Fitzpatrik, Joe Ceh, George Stack, Jack Feldkamp, Mr. Lowrie.

Work to be Done if the War's to be Won . . ."

The Victory Corps is a nation-wide wartime student organization for high schools. It is both democratic and voluntary in character, having for its purpose the enrollment of high school youth of America into an organization which will provide intensified and varied activities toward the common goal . . . all-out victory.

Membership in the corps means one of two things: the student member is either engaged in some branch of civilian defense activity or is definitely preparing himself for some future war service. Those people who meet the requirements and are accepted for membership are permitted to wear the official insignia of the branch of the Corps in which they choose to participate.

The Victory Corps at Lorain High School consists of six branches: Air service Division . . . plane spotting . . . communications . . . mechanics of flight; Land Servce Division . . . victory garden plots . . . summer farm labor; Sea Service Division . . . marine navigation . . . harbor patrol . . . semaphore; Production Service Division . . . part-time jobs, one answer to the man-power shortage; Community Service Division . . . rationing . . . first-aid . . . knitting; and General Service Division . . . participation and cooperation in unified public war effort.

We of Lorain High School are proud of our Victory Corps for its members have heard and have answered the challenge. With one goal in sight they are . . . "All out for Victory with Victory Corps."

CHARACTER . . . SCHOLARSHIP . .

"I pledge myself to uphold the high purposes of this society to which I have been elected, striving in every way, by word and deed, to make its ideals the ideals of my school and of my life."

Columns left! Columns Right! Strike up the band! If you would chance by Recreation Field on certain crisp November afternoons, you would hear Mr. Brown calling such phrases to the 105 bewildered, benumber members of the Lorain High School Band.

But football is by far not the only activity in which this organization is engaged. Since the beginning of the war, the band has become much more active, doing many more things than they would in ordinary times.

Early some morning, usually once or twice a month, you may have passed the Jay Cee Auditorium and heard some rousing, ear-catching music. That, too, was our band, giving a final contribution to inductees—a musical send-off.

If you are a lover of ships and faithfully attend the "bottle-smashing" services, you may have heard OUR band present a musical program, including the broadcast over WTAM. The marching band has also received compliments on its fine performance at the "Blast the Enemy" celebration, held in honor of Lorain-born Admiral Ernest J. King.

TS MORALE ★ ★

HOWARD E. BROWN, Director

You may also find this group of music-makers in the auditorium as they play the "processional" at some of our assembly programs. The band also gave impressive performances at the Victory concert and the May Festival.

But all is not "champagne and music" with this organization. The war has brought its difficulties. In former times, the band members got some pleasure from out-of-town trips—but not now, with tire and gasoline rationing. The supply of musical instruments has been greatly reduced, therefore the instruments have to be more carefully put away and taken care of. After school rehearsals have been cut to a minimum because so many band members have jobs which release workers for war industries and the armed services. Yes, the band, too, must "sacrifice for victory."

The members of the Lorain High Band practiced faithfully, but it is through combined effort that they have won those "Superior" and "Excellent plus" ratings for the whole band and for the individual ensembles.

There goes the whistle! It's time for the kickoff.

WAR RELIEF ★ ★

If anyone in Lorain High has felt the impact of the war, surely it has been the Orchestra. Its members have had to do without necessary materials in many instances, for example, reeds, the finest of which have been importd from France, are now impossible to obtain from overseas, and the woodwind sections have to be content with reeds made in the "Good Old U.S.A."

Certain orchestra groups have sacrified participating in district, state and national contests because of difficulty in securing transportation. Furthermore, the production of American-made instruments has ceased entirely, forcing people who need new instruments to go either without or find used ones to purchase.

Members for the orchestra are usually selected by Mr. H. F. Brown on the basis of ability shown in junior high school orchestral groups. Competition is keen, and thus students must be far enough advanced to be able to play any type of music required of them.

During the entire year, each one of the sixty-five orchestra people has found himself busy, not only playing at assemblies and school concerts, but also performing on many public occasions or special days. The orchestra has accompanied the choir at the Christmas program, operetta, May Festival and the various cantatas. They have accompanied beaming graduates, marching down the isle at commencement time. They also provided the music for the Dramatic Appreciation Play, "Best Foot Forward."

It has been said that music is the universal language. The truth of this statement has been proven by the orchestra. The fine quality of its musical interpretations is readily appreciated by those who listen. Hall guards on duty near the music rooms, feel privileged to hear the strains of lovely melodies, which filter through the doors and cracks, when the orchestra meets.

The players in the orchestra and their conductor, Mr. Howard F. Brown, should be congratulated, for bringing culture and art to Lorain High in time of conflict and stress. "Our hats are off to you!"

The Highwayman

Celebrating a Silver Jubilee, November 19, and 20, the a cappella presented their twenty-fifth annual operetta, "The Highwayman."

The plot centered in the activities of Dick Fitzgerald (Floyd Garl) who became a highwayman known as Captain Scarlet after being ruined by a gambler, Sir John Hawkhurst (Harry Martin.) His pardon having fallen into the hands of Hawkhurst, Lady Constance (Janet Gibson) tried to secure the royal pardon and save her lover from his wanderings as a hunted outlaw.

Comedy and drama in addition to stirring melodious music combined to make a production of unusual interest. Presented for the first time by a school group east of the Rocky Mountains, the operetta proved a real success.

Reginald De Koven was the author of the production that is usually reserved for professional interpretations only.

For many in the audience, the production was really a kind of "premiere." Its British background and theme were particularly appropriate at this time.

With apologies to the old clique we say "Another splendid performance!"

In the third are: Janet Gibson, Daniel Bodor, Clyde Wolfli and Floyd Garl frightened Betty Tomchu and Nancy Morris, while Paul Szarka and Harry Martin were unimpressed.

The fourth: Returned from the successful fox hunt are the hunters and huntresses dressed in teh traditional English garb: Jack Rohner, Alvin Kolyno, Harvey Von Wantoch, William Wise and Raymond Py in the top row; Vincent Januzzi, Alvin Ricci, Ted Poprock and Don Quester in the second row; Mary Fabrizio, Vivian Kelly, Mary Catherine Carlson, Dolores Sadlowski, Glenna Steele, Barbara Lee Kern, Julia Mathenitis, Joyce Irish, and Virginia Shreffler.

Number five: Can you recognize these seven sneering faces? These "bold bandits" shown in picture 1, this time cleverly disguised as Gypsies.

In the sixth are: Frances Buell, Joan Luttrell, Dorothy Aten, Raynette Ault, Margaret Andrews, Rae Francis Hart, Mary Jane Piper and Jane Ann Witter, (Old England's 1770 version of the W.A.A.C.) stood at attention for Captain Lovelace (James Billings).

Best Foot Forward

A rollicking "morale builder" brightened the stage of Lorain High as the Dramatic Appreciation class, successfully managed, directed, and supervised by Miss Ruth Hardy, put its "Best Foot Forward" as the twenty-fourth annual play on April 30, 1943.

The rise of the curtain found Dutch and Hunk, the fast-thinking roommates, clearing the decks for the annual prom so that the invited girls might use their room.

The main action centers around Bud Hooper, the third very sad and sick-looking roommate who has, without malice aforethought, invited not the usual one, but two girls to the prom, his regular girl, Helen, and Gale Joy, the Hollywood Wham Girl (with sweaters).

From then on, the play moves hilariously to the fall of the curtain as Gale Joy gets much needed publicity, Winsocki gets a football team, and Bud Hooper gets back in the good graces of Helen.

Picture 5 showed the whole cast in the final scene. From left to right we find John Pajak, Jack; Clyde Wolfli, Prof. Lloyd; Dean Buchanan, Old Grad; Wallace Brasen, Doc Reeber; Virginia Shreffler, Gale Joy; Gene Hawley, Satchel; Bernard Berman, Green; Agnes Gencur, Helen; Dick Tuttle, Bud; Elmer Popov, Chester; Gene Ross, Dutch; Isabelle Shiach, Ethel; Bill Broz, Hunk; Janet Smith, Minerva; Jean Caulton, Miss Smith; Frances Urban, Blind Date; Kathleen Masson, Miss Delaware Water Gap; Ray Gill and Steve Smarsch, Winsocki Prep Musicians.

In the first: Gale and Bud made a sad attempt to pose for Chester in the presence of Dutch, Helen, and Jack.

In the second: Helen walked in on the mortified Bud and the very much surprised Dutch, Gale, Jack, and Hunk.

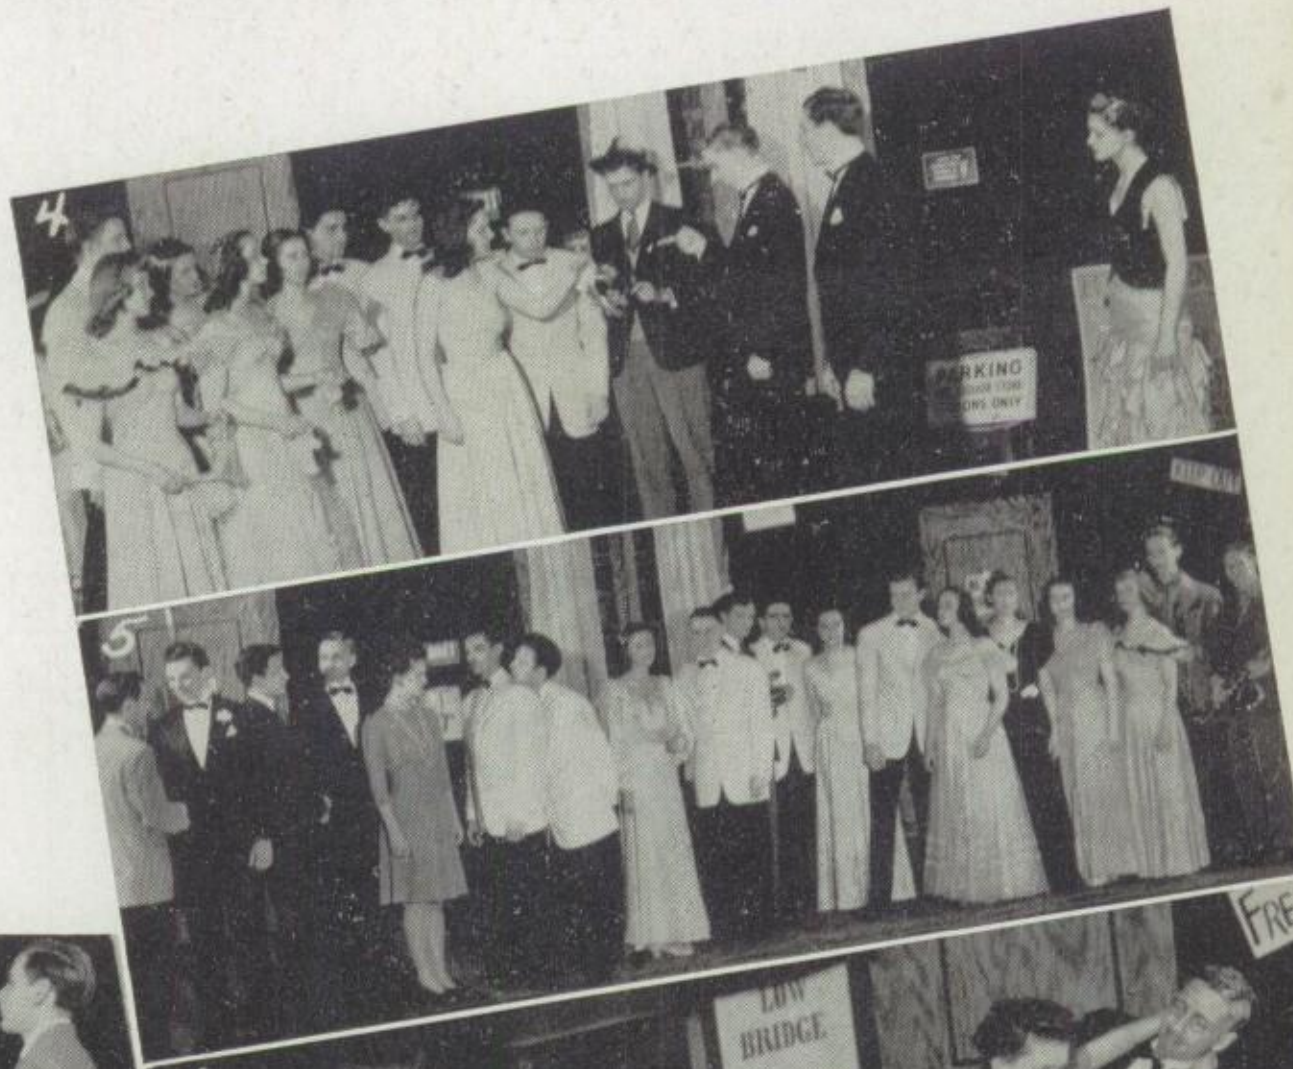
Third picture: Miss Smith, the chaperone, made sure the girls "enjoyed" their stay at Winsocki Prep.

Picture 4. Doc Reeber interrupted a semi-riot.

In the sixth: Gale came to Bud's rescut when she vamped Doc Reeber before Chester's camra as Jack and Hunk looked on.

The seventh shows: Miss Jameson, Jean Sislowski, Anne Wnek, Mr. Cook, and Evelyn Grider took charge of properties.

The eighth: We find Nathan Margolis, Dan Little, Roy Briggs, Rudy Seville, Bob Pastron, Bryant Richardson, and Dick Trimble who acted as stagehands.



OFFICE OF

Hi-Standard Editorial Staff

Just as the war has affected other organizations, it has also affected the Hi-Standard Editorial Staff. The shortage is in "manpower." There are so many boys and girls who worked after school and so many more who joined the services of Uncle Sam before they graduated that Miss Bleyer and Miss Watson, faculty advisors, had difficulty in obtaining a sufficient number of staff members.

ACRIFICING OUR METAL ★ ★

To the staff of the Scimitar, "too little and too late" had another meaning with materials for yearbook use curtailed. Less copper, fewer cuts, less film, victory metal and far less color all took a bow. It was "too little" to work with, but not too litle work. "Too late" took its bow with the night shifts, in the Journalism Room.

Members have to have a lot of interest in the book, grades that will stand the strain, and a lot of time on their hands. A set of shockproof nerves about a week before going to press also helps.

Two of the members whose pictures were not included here are Selma Lerner, '43-A, and Vera Pandy, one of our typists.

Here we have pictured a few of the more quiet moments of the staff's work.

The staff extends its whole-hearted appreciation to the Lorain Journal without whose help we would not have been able to gather much of our information.

We thank Mr. and Mrs. Henderson for their splendid cooperation in helping us to record the heroic deeds of theirson, Lofty.

We appreciate the cooperation of the American Shipbuilding Company in permitting us to use launching scenes.

It is the hope of the staff of this 1943 Scimitar that this book will bring togeher in spirit the members of this class and other classes who will soon be separated on many fronts.

Upper left: D. C. Davis, ace Cameraman, with Ruth Lachman and Frank Mendez standing by, took time out in the midst of a photographic mission to oblige another cameraman. The shutter clicked only once on each group this year due to the film conservation program.

Upper right: "Check and double check" was Janet Mihok's motto as she enlisted the aid of Phyllis Aebersold and Marion Rothman in the identification of a picture in the senior layout. With the Scimitar's "one-print-negative" policy they had to be careful.

Center: The two invaluable counsellors of the staff observed mapping out the plan of attack on the opening section: Victory E. Dobras and H. A. Oliver were aided and abetted by George Haley and Gene Ross, who had plenty of brilliant ideas.

Lower left: Bob Smith, January Editor, and Wally Brasen, June Editor, were caught visualizing another all-American Scimitar.

Lower right: It takes typing, typing, and more typing to make a year-book and Stella Narowski was always on the job.

WATERHOUSE —"Doc" attended to all of the minor cuts and injuries suffered by the Steelmen during the season.

..Football Develops Physical Fitness

It was Sacrifice for Victory for the Steelmen, as they gave up plush seats on trains and chartered buses for trips on crowded buses and private cars. However every cloud must have a silver lining and the Steelers received their silver lining in the form of a season's record of 8 wins, 1 tie, and 1 loss.

The Lorain grid machine turned on the power and ran rough shod over their first five opponents, piling up 158 points while their goal line remained uncrossed. The opposition for the sixth game was the Lakewood Rangers. They had compiled a record almost equal to that of the Steelers by scoring 130 points in 5 games. Midway through the game the Rangers struck quickly for three touchdowns, then held off a driving Lorain team to the final minute.

In their next appearance the Steelers came from behind in the second half to tie Shaw and assure them of a tie for second place in the LEHI league.

The next contest pitted Lorain against the mighty Canton Lincoln Lions, one of the strongest teams in the state. The game was touch and go throughout but the Steelmen finally emerged victorious by a score of 12-7.

In the final game of the regular season, Lorain met their traditional rivals from Elyria, and held a field day at the Pioneers' expense. With Leo Pawlak, the league's leading scorer, going over for two touchdowns and 2 extra points, the game ended with Lorain on the long end of a 40-0 count.

Late in the season a charity game was played, with the proceeds going to Civilian Defense. Sandusky, who was beaten earlier in the season by Lorain, tasted defeat once more at the hands of the Steelers to the tune of 13-0.

Girls' Sports

The war influenced Girls' Sports in many ways. Stunts were introduced in regular gym classes to build up the body. Jiu-jitsu made its debut in girls' classes as well as boys. Interest in sports was increased among upperclassmen due to lacking credits in Physical Education to be eligible for the Victory Corps.

Such names as "WAACs," "WAVES," and "SPARS" were derived from war organizations and were prominent among the girls as titles for teams.

Volley ball, basket ball, table tennis, and badminton were included in the intramural tournaments; and with warmer weather interest turned to baseball and hiking

Swimming classes were held Tuesdays and Thursdays after school at the Y. M. C. A. all year around.

The girls had access to the gym on Mondays and Fridays after school.

Picture one includes: Pat Jacoby and Nancy Sido standing on their heads with Vera Pandy in the background.

Picture two shows: Jean Ross trying some jiu-jitsu tactics on Georgene Binder.

The fifth picture shows: Mary Rado scaling the ropes.

. KEEN COMPETITION ★ ★

The first picture shows Bob Peters and Ed Shuffert in the background, with Clarence Berens, Don Snyder, and Chub Karendal seated with the Major Hendesron trophy.

In the second picture, Smith keeps score and tells Dorothy Sandors and Juanita Petroskv to volley, while Phyllis Proctor and Dorothy Pakos look on.

In the third picture Bob Curtis handed the ball to David Merves, while Donald Zeh, Tonv Breno, Mr. W. A. Smith, Steve Maikut, Doug Hogue, and Rufus Rodgers stand around.

In the middle row are: Vic Virant, Vic Ciarrone, Gabriel DiLuciano, Joe Malinovsky, Bill Knight, and Dick Schneider.

In the last row are: Jim Feldkamp, Bob Curtis, Jay Lyons, Tony Telloni, and Mario Columbaro.

Boys' Sports

With the Major Lofton Henderson trophy as an incentive, intramural basketball was stepped up considerably this year. The Torpedoes were the first team to win the trophy which was presented by Dick Burrett, a classmate of "Loftie's." This memorial is a permanent tribute to the sports interest of a real "lover of the game."

In spite of the scarcity of athletic materials, "Pete" Smith managed to form a softball league. Playing their games at Lakeview park, the Rosses won the school championship for the second consecutive year.

Volleyball had probably the greatest turnout of any intramural sport in high school. The Torpedoes were champions of the school by virtue of their record of 21 wins and 4 losses.

According to Mr. Smith, "Intramural sports will continue to expand, especially since the war effort is cutting down the inter-scholastic form of competition. All boys and girls are urged to take part in one of the many intramural activities offered by Lorain High School.

Top row: Don Kovach, Ray Drobizewski, Al Campana, Don Schneider, Bob Meyers, Doug Preble, Hoy Adrain, Eugene Komlosi, Leo Pawlak, Bob Renny, Nick Campana.
Third row: Dock Waterhouse, Bill Snell, Joe Malinovsky, Clinton Wittmer, Bob Kelleher, Bob Stipe, Bruno Wachholz, Ken Gibson, Eric Weiss, Al Kozell, Edward Kin, Coach Pryor.
Second row: Bill Alvarez, Ray Link, Bill Ragan, Chase Heyman, George James, Jack Hintz, Earl Wright, George Francis, Wayne Smith, Howard Jesko, Joe Bartos, Dean Buchanan.

Basketball Promotes Physical Fitness

Coasting along smoothly with only one league loss, the L.H.S. cagers suddenly struck a snag in the mid year graduation of Paul Cook and Don Dickson. It took some time for the boys to get organized and by tournament time they were clicking on all cylinders. The final record for seasonal play was 9 wins and 9 losses.

In the first game of the sectional tournament at Kent Lorain upset North Canton, winner of nineteen straight games. At the half N. Canton was leading, but when the dust of battle had cleared, the Steelers were on the long end of a 33-31 score.

In the next game Massilon Tigers fell before the sharp shooting Lorain cagers. At one stage in the game Lorain was behind fifteen points, but the proteges of Herb Mills began to put on the pressure as the Tigers cracked. The final score was Lorain 48, Massilon 43.

For their third game the Steelers drew a strong Akron Ellet five. The game progressed in a nip and tuck battle, with one team leading and then the other. Finally in the last quarter Lorain began to edge away and the whistle blew with the score Lorain 39, Akron Ellet 29.

In the final game of the sectional tourney Lorain started against Akron West in typical fashion by trailing the Cowboys for three quarters. The last quarter saw the Steelers put on added strength as they slowly closed the gap. However the game was not long enough and Lorain sat on the short end of a 36-32 count.

BASKETBALL RESERVES

Dick Stevenson

TENNIS 1942

Tennis was the least hit of all the high school sports inasmuch as the station wagon was always handy for the use of the L. H. S. racqueteers while on trips to other cities, that is, until the O. P. A. put the clamps down on the use of school buses for interscholastic sports. Although the shortage of tennis balls formed a major difficulty for other schools, our players were not bothered as much, due to a little pre-season "hoarding."

Starting the season off with a bang, the tennis team swept a match with Elyria to the tune of 5-0.

The second league encounter saw them drop a match to the highly superior Heights Tigers by a score of 5-0. In the last three encounters the Steelers ran into a little difficulty, losing matches to Shaw and Shaker by the identical score of 4-1 and dropping the final encounter to a hot Lakewood squad by a score of 5-0.

The best Lorain record for the season was turned in by Louis Fischer who won three of his five starts.

"I don't know what we'll do next year, that is, if there will be a tennis league?" stated Mr. Bash, tennis coach. "Balls, racquets, and everything pertaining to interscholastic sports will all be a question next year." Perhaps another sacrifice for victory.

Graduates

Congratulations both on the successful completion of your High School course and on being extremely fortunate in the opportunities before you.

Unusually good positions await you in Civil Service, in business and in the many other phases of the great war effort.

Of course anyone can get a job now but our High School graduates should prepare for the better positions in Government, Business, the Army, the Navy and other military organizations.

Secretarial and Business Training is the quickest and surest means of getting one of these good positions; and most important of all, when the war is over, your training and experience will make you the favored one when good positions are less plentiful.

Why not join your friends in the Oberlin School of Commerce where you get the best.

Freaks

"I know a girl who swallows swords."

"Huh, I know a gal who inhales Camels."

Love starts when she sinks in your arms and ends with her arms in the sink.
